Three Day Winter Course on Competition Law and Practice in India 21st to 23rd December 2013

About CIRC

Established in September 2005 with the Mission: To be a Centre of Excellence on Regulatory and Competition Issues, CUTS Institute for Regulation & Competition (CIRC) is an esteemed institution, which primarily focuses on infrastructure and economic regulation, and competition policy and law with an objective of reaching out to the target audience in India and other developing countries in Asia and Africa. Its crucial role in research and capacity building in the area of competition policy and law has created an intellectual knowledge base on regulatory reforms. This rich experience of working on competition policy and law has resulted in many national and international publications which has enriched a more informed discourse on public policies and greatly benefited different stakeholders in the society. Since its inception, CIRC has been undertaking several training seminars and public lectures on competition policy and law in India and abroad. It also organized international symposia on the political economy of competition and regulation in the developing world and India.

CIRC Activities:

CIRC offers practical focus on educational and training programmes on infrastructure and economic regulation, competition policy and law. The Institute aims to facilitate research to enhance understanding and explore inter-disciplinary linkages among the identified subjects. The rich experience of working on competition policy and law has resulted in many national and international publications. Increasing demand of long and short-term courses offered by CIRC is appreciated by many national and international organisations. The Institute has also made cerebral contribution in the work of the High Level Committee on National Competition Policy.
